Description:	In a bid to promote the therapeutic and health-enhancing benefits of nature, the National Service Scheme (NSS) unit at Samata Degree College undertook a Medicinal Gardening Program. The initiative sought to actively involve the college community in the process of planting, cultivating, and maintaining the medicinal garden. This involvement aimed to foster a sense of responsibility for the environment and provide hands-on learning experiences. By cultivating a garden of medicinal plants, the program not only enhanced awareness about the healing properties of nature but also provided a tangible and sustainable resource for the college community's health and education.
