Seminar Topic: Statistical Tools Used in Research

Objectives:

- Equip participants with an understanding of fundamental statistical concepts and their application in research.
- Introduce a range of commonly used statistical tools and their respective strengths and limitations.
- Provide hands-on experience with basic data analysis using statistical software.
- Enhance participants' ability to interpret and communicate statistical results effectively.
- Develop critical thinking skills for evaluating the use of statistical methods in research literature.

Topics Covered:

Module 1: Introduction to Statistical Thinking

- Importance of statistics in research
- Basic statistical concepts: population, sample, variables, data types.

SAMATA DEGREE COLLEGE

- Descriptive statistics: measures of central tendency (mean, median, mode) and dispersion (range, standard deviation)
- Data visualization: histograms, bar charts, boxplots

Module 2: Inferential Statistics and Hypothesis Testing

- Null hypothesis and alternative hypothesis
- Statistical significance and p-values
- T-tests: comparing means of two groups
- ANOVA: comparing means of three or more groups
- Chi-square test: testing for associations between categorical variables

Outcomes:

- Participants will be able to:
 - Define and apply basic statistical concepts in research contexts.
 - Choose appropriate statistical tools for analyzing data based on research questions.
 - Perform basic data analysis using statistical software.
 - Interpret and communicate statistical results in a clear and concise manner.
 - Critically evaluate the use of statistical methods in research articles.
 - Have a foundation for further exploring advanced statistical techniques.
